 POINTWEST

A learning management system designed for organizations that provide training, learning and development programs for their employees

FACTS

- Online learning is becoming one of the fastest-growing trends in education technology, and it's not slowing down anytime soon.
- The availability of mobile devices and access on the internet has drastically changed the playing field for e-learning.
- 59% of students who use social networking talk about educational topics online.
- More and more employees leave their jobs mainly due to lack of training and learning opportunities.
- Companies who provide e-Learning opportunities are highly likely to generate more productive employees.

Find out how Mento can make your employees become engaged, responsible and accountable for their own capability and professional growth

What does Mento provide to your Learning and Development team?
